

Training Course Facial Diagnostics & Biochemistry

Date:	26 April - 5 May 2024
Location:	Im Kirschengarten 8 56132 Kemmenau/Germany
Language:	German, translation into English
Fee:	€ 1,350.00
Course Director:	Friedrich Depke

The course is designed to give you a firm footing in using the original eleven Schuessler cell salts, i. e. knowing their effects, application and dosage.

The basic instrument to this effect is the traditional facial diagnosis which enables you to choose the correct salts needed to cover a deficiency. We teach along the original guidelines of Kurt Hicketier, the founder of the theory of facial diagnostics.

Step by step you will be familiarized with the 24 signs indicating a deficiency in cell salts. For any deficiency can be clearly seen in the face!

In a further step you will be taught to "see" these signs, assess whether a deficiency exists and if so its severity. In this way, you can determine the correct dosage.

In evaluating these signs, you will always be able to reestablish health and well-being, thus warding off any impending discomforts or illnesses or at least containing any indispositions.

I gladly share all of the insights I have gained in many years of practice with you and let you partake of my experience.

Each course is a complete unit. Attendance is open to anybody and not contingent on prior medical training or learning.

For the purpose of better differentiation of the facial diagnostics colourations, wearers of spectacles require untinted, anti-glare spectacle lenses.

During the seminar, all participants' faces must be free of creames, ointments, make-up, lipstick, mascara, other cosmetics or anything else that can be put on the face.

Booking discount:

A repeat booking discount of 50% will be offered if the training course is repeated.
